A DAY IN THE LIFE OF A HOLLYWOOD ACTRESS

In her new column the British actress Alice Evans tells what it is really like to live in the dream city LA. This time she writes about a day she goes to a casting for a TV series.

Monday

I sit in my car and drive up Laurel Road. I try to do my make up when the traffic lights are red but of course they are always green. I am late for the casting. I park outside the CBS Studios and run to the security guard at the gate. "What are you here for?" he asks. "I have a meeting with Monica Stein", I answer. He looks at his list. "You are not on the list!" he says. "I should be on the list - I have a meeting with Mrs Stein at 11:30," I reply. "No, you are not on the list, I cannot let you in," the security guy tells me. I grab my mobile phone and call my agent Lance. "Lance, I am at the CBS Studios. I am not on their list for the casting - so they do not let me in", I tell him. Lance tells me that he has called Mrs Stein in the morning and that I should be on the list. Lance wants to call the casting office and I have to wait until he calls back. A few minutes later my mobile phone rings - Tracy, my manager, is on the phone. "Where are you? Mrs Stein's office has just called - they are waiting for you!" "I can't get in", I tell her what has happened. "What? Pass me the guy!" Tracy says. I hand my phone to the security guard so that Tracy can talk to him. Finally he lets me go through.

Aufgabe II Leseverstehen

II A True/ False/ Not in the text: Fitness made easy

Step 1: Read the text

Bild: D. Gudjons

Fitness made easy

Lots of people struggle with staying healthy and keeping their body fit. I read a lot of fitness articles and blogs and see a lot of complicated advice and tips. It is hard to know which ones are right as everyone seems to say something different. In everyday life, it can be difficult to follow the tips they give as other things like work or school get in the way.

Every magazine has "experts" who argue for entirely different methods of keeping healthy or slim. Some say that you should ban white bread, pasta and rice from your diet. Some say not to eat any sugar at all. Others say that you should stick to meat such as chicken and eggs because they have more protein and less fat. Another article will say completely the opposite, telling you to eat whatever you like in small amounts.

As for exercise, it is a similar story. Everyone claims something different. Some say that walking is the best exercise. Somewhere else it will say that walking doesn't help at all and you need to go running regularly. People who do bodybuilding and lift weights laugh at those who do cardio exercises such as jogging. My friends say that playing competitive sports such as basketball and football is the best way to keep in shape. You'll hear a million variations of how to exercise best: when to eat, what to eat, how much to eat, when to exercise, how long to exercise for, what extra help you need to stay healthy, etc.

Reading all of these articles telling you different things is enough to make you feel like giving up. However, in reality, it doesn't have to be that complicated. In fact, there are just two simple rules you need to follow, both of which are equally important:

1. Work out or exercise regularly

and

2. Eat real, wholesome foods in moderate amounts (even sweets are allowed sometimes).

Erster allgemeinbildender Schulabschluss Englisch
Hinweise und Beispiele zu den zentralen schriftlichen Prüfungsaufgaben

I am sure that if you stick to these two rules, and keep it up for at least a month; you'll notice an improvement and start getting fit. You can still be healthy just by following one of the rules (not always!) but you may not have the body that you want. If you do both, you are on track to a healthier and fitter life.

- Decide if the statements are true / false / not in the text.
- Mark the correct box (x).
- There is an example at the beginning (0).

		true	false	not in the text
0.	Most people have no problem staying fit and healthy.		X

Aufgabe 2: Textproduktion:

2.1. Writing a letter

You have got a letter from your penfriend Mike in Tampa, Florida.

Read it and write a letter back. Don't forget to answer the underlined questions.

Remember the form of a letter.

You'll find the *-words in the word list. There is also a German – English word list.

Tampa, April 3rd, 2005

Dear,

How are you? Are you still on spring vacation* ?

I really had a good time for three weeks because I did my work experience as a shop assistant in a big department store.

5 The best thing was that I didn't start work until 9.30 am.

In my first week all I had to do was selling biscuits. I refilled* the containers* and filled biscuits into bags of 100 or 200 g. I was not allowed to touch the biscuits but had to wear plastic gloves*.

10 During the first two days the biscuits were delicious, but then we got some boxes of really hard biscuits (I don't know where they got them from.) which we mixed among the fresh ones. Wasn't that awful?

I talked to my colleagues when we had lunch in the canteen, but they didn't care.

In my second week I worked in a different department where I had to sell women's clothes. I was quite good at it - you know, I could easily see if a lady was size 10 or 12.

15 When my teacher visited me they told her that I was very helpful and polite and always on time! Unbelievable, don't you think so?

It was not easy to get a job here but my mom knows someone who works in the staff department*. Can you believe that I wrote applications* to ten different companies before I got this job? Did you find it easy to get your work experience? I also had to send my CV! What about you?

Didn't you do your work experience in February? I'm not quite sure.

20 What time did you start, and what did you do? And how did you like it?

Tell me everything about your work and your colleagues. Were they nice? Did you get any money? And do you want to do the job after school?

Hey, I went to work by car. My mom let me drive hers.

Take care.

25 Yours,

Mike
